"LADY OF MUKHTARA" TALKS OF U. S. SHOES

Queen of the Druses Won't Discuss Politics.

Mukhtara, Greater Lebanon, Syria.—Dressed in purple robes of the finest silks and satin, tall and rather plump, her face covered by a flimsy black veil of the most exquisite texture, the "lady of Mukhtara," presents truly a regal picture.

"The queen of the Druses," as she is called by the men who are fighting the soldiers of France, is often looked to for advice and guidance. She appears every inch a queen.

Aged about thirty-seven, she was left a widow a few years ago when her husband, a member of the great family of the Yamblatts, was assassinated by his own countrymen, the Druses.

Inherited Much Wealth.

Sit Nizira Yamblatt was left alone with her two children, at the head of her immense property both in the Lebanon and the Djebel Druse.

She never wept a tear, never tried to prosecute her husband's murderers, but as in the past took a moral and financial interest in the welfare of her countrymen.

Although unreconciled to the French mandate, Sit Nizira warned Sultan Attrache not to rise against France in open armed rebellion. She refused to contribute any funds toward the purchase of war material and ammunition, but has placed money at the disposal of widows and orphans of the Druse warriors fallen in battle.

Shown Priceless Tapestries.

This was the woman who received the correspondent in a great room littered with the richest carpets of Damascus, hung with the priceless tapestries of Persia, in an atmosphere strangely redolent of the "Thousand and One Nights."

Speaking excellent English, the queen's first words were:

"Please don't talk politics. I no longer have interest in politics when blood is flowing in the Djebel Druse and my countrymen are being killed in hopeless battle. Talk to me about America."

"These shoes, they come from America," she volunteered, when the correspondent had perhaps rather too intently looked at her dainty feet.

"You must have had them made to order," the correspondent absently replied. " I don't see how you could find a size small enough in the readymades."

The suspicion of a frown appeared and then she smiled and said: "Yes, they are rather small, and it is a good thing that brains are not in one's feet."

The queen discussed the United States and other topics as far removed as possible from war in the Djebel Druse. Her eyes flashed with pride when she was told that her countrymen in America generally proved to become good citizens, were respected members of their communities and the majority prospered financially.

Oklahoma Women Bare Indian Ideals

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Esthetic traits of the Oklahoma Indians are being emphasized to club women of Oklahoma in a series of programs designed for that purpose.

An index of literature dealing with the origin, history, religion, folk lore and music of Indian tribes that have their home in Oklahoma has been prepared by Mrs. Charina Conlan, chairman of the Indian welfare committee of the Oklahoma Federation of Women's Clubs. Intended as tentative material for Indian programs, the index is available to all women's clubs, Mrs. Conlan said.

The programs are intended to remove the impression that the battle cry and the war dance are still the prevailing forms of aboriginal expression.

Mrs. Conlan, herself of Choctaw and Chickasaw origin, points out that the five civilized tribes of Oklahoma—the Chickasaws, Choctaws, Cherokees, Creeks and Seminoles—have been an educated people for more than a century and that many outstanding artists have sprung from their ranks.

Papa Bobs Mamma's Hair; Uses a Stone to Do Job

London.—Women have their hair shingled among the Australian aborigines in the region of Gregory sea and it is a husband's prerogative to cut his wife's hair with sharpened stones.

Such is the story of hairdressing in Australia which Michael Terry, explorer, has brought back to London after a trip through little-known parts of northern Australia.

Female hair is much prized by the aborigines, as it is used in weaving belts and making various sorts of ornaments.

Advertising Pays

New York.—The manufacture of a temperance beverage named after a neighbor of Uncle Sam has found advertising to be an Aladdin's lamp. In 1922, when there was no advertising, sales were 1,030,050 bottles. Last year, with something over $800,000 used for advertising, sales were 51,788,500 bottles.

What! Again?

Cedar Rapids, Iowa.—The Charry sisters, Effie and Addie, have signed for another farewell vaudeville tour.

GOAT MAN UNMOVED BY $200,000 LEGACY

But He Celebrates by Buying Raincoats for Friends.

New York.—George J. Harding, the "goat man" at Palisades amusement park, refused to get excited over a $200,000 fortune he is said to have inherited in England from the estate of a great-uncle. He was more interested in his goats.

"Yes," he said, "I had word from the lawyers over there that it's coming to me. My uncle's been dead six years. They've been litigating over his money ever since. I'm perfectly contented like I am; don't care much if I never get mine."

But there was one little incident to belie the calm demeanor of the "goat man." Outwardly he was indifferent to his new wealth, but he admitted, half sheepishly, half defiantly, that he had gone on a splurge and bought 25 raincoats for friends and associates in the amusement park.

"The boys sorta expected me to celebrate a little," he said defensively. "Besides," and there was a twinkle in his eyes, "I believe they ought to have something for a rainy day."

Up at Westesly, R. I., Harding who is forty-eight years old, has a farm of 180 acres stocked with a herd of several hundred goats.

"You know," and the kindly "goat man" grew wistfully confidential, "I've got a theory that the casein can be taken from goat's milk and crystallized, just like they make malted milk, and that it'll do a lot for people that have tuberculosis. That's one of the things I'm working on."

Seventeen years now he has been at Palisade park summers, hooking up his goats to little wagons and giving kids the thrill of their lives by letting them "go driving."

"I'm right well satisfied with life," he said, "as things are. Of course I've always known I'd have to quit working some time, but it's hard to break away. I've tried for ten years and now I guess I'll have to; it's up to me to go over there and get this fortune business straightened up."

Just the same he'll finish the season at the amusement park and take his time about going after the money.

Doctor to Aid Indian Fight on Trachoma

Philadelphia.—Dr. L. Webster Fox, prominent ophthalmologist of this city, will again pass the summer among the Indians of Montana to prevent the spread of blindness from threads made into the sight of 20 per cent of them by trachoma.

Doctor Fox left Philadelphia recently for the West, where he will attend two medical conferences in the middle of July and give his services without remuneration to hundreds of suffering Indians.

In the summer of 1924 Doctor Fox performed remarkable operations upon the eyes of the Blackfeet Indians at Browning, Mont. Out of 400 cases practically all have been cured. Their gratitude for his services to them was so great that Doctor Fox was made a chief of the tribe at an elaborate ceremony and presented with rare gifts of Indian art and craftsmanship.

This year he will go among the Crow Indians at Billings, Mont. A large percentage of the Crow tribe are suffering from trachoma, which appears to be spreading rapidly among them.

Fireflies That Glow All Time, Science's Latest

New York.—Fireflies that glow all the time, thanks to short-circuiting injections of adrenalin, are the latest contribution of science, William S. Creighton, Princeton graduate student, who is working under the direction of Dr. Frank E. Lutz, curator of entomology and director of the American Museum of Natural History's station for the study of insects in the Harriman state park, made the discovery.

Mr. Creighton has found in the course of his studies of the nature of firefly light that heavy "shots" of adrenalin, administered with a syringe between the firefly's body segments, changed the intermittent flashing characteristic of these insects to a sustained luminosity. In some instances he has kept individual insects "lighted up" twenty-four hours, but these specimens invariably died, presumably through expenditure of too much vital energy.

Electricity Boycotted to Rid Town of Poles

London.—Incensed at the specter of "clothes props ruthlessly disfiguring" the streets, the old market town of Princes Risborough has risen up in a horrified protest against the invasion of electricity. Many residents signed a pledge not to use the current as long as the poles stand.

"Two miles of poles streten through the market place and High street, obstructing the view of the Market Hall so a photographer was unable to get a picture," one citizen lamented. The electricity corporation refuses to remove the poles and defies the boycott.

SENSIBLE

Ninety per cent of all the cars Dodge Brothers built in the last 11 years are still in service. That is because they are built to last! And that is why there is no more sensible investment in the world than a Dodge Brothers Used Car.

A USED CAR IS ONLY AS DEPENDABLE AS THE DEALER WHO SELLS IT

TALK is cheap, and it is easy to make extravagant claims. This is true of cream separator claims. If there is the slightest doubt in your mind which machine will skim cleanest, just try this simple test:

Pour a De Laval skim-by-dish and a disc separator of equal rated capacity. Your De Laval Agent will gladly arrange this test. Mix 10 gallons of milk thoroughly and let stand for 12 hours at a temperature of 70 degrees. Run half through each machine. Wash the bowl and tinware of each machine in its own skim-milk. Then run the De Laval skim-milk through the disc machine and the disc skim-milk through the De Laval machine to ensure that each gets from the other's skim-milk. When you do this you will know beyond doubt that the De Laval skims cleaner, produces more and more profitable to own.

The new De Laval is the best cream separator ever made. It has the wonderful "floating" bowl—the greatest separator improvement in 25 years. It is guaranteed to skim cleaner, run easier and last longer. It is the crowning achievement of 48 years of separator manufacture and leadership.

TIMES-VIRGINIAN

HIXBURG

We had a severe storm and some rain on Monday and only farmers that had housed tobacco felt safe, fortunately there was no hail here.

Rev. Redding preached an excellent sermon here on last Sunday and if we only paid attention we might try to do better as he made plain the duty of church members to God, and made it more so to the man out of the church.

Mrs. Grimstead and daughter, Annie, are spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Jack Marshall before going to Roanoke, where she will teach this session.

Mrs Lillian Gilliam is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Glenn.

Mr. Willie Singleton, and daughter, Miss Bessie, and Mr. Jack Singleton, of Darlington Heights, were with us at church on Sunday and visited in the home of Mr. J. H. Marshall.

Dr Newton Pleasant, of Richmond, Miss Adams. of Crewe, and Miss Phoenix, of Farmville, were guests of Miss Rosa Lillian Fore on last Sunday.

Mr. J. Dabney Swan leaves for Bluefield on Wednesday to visit his parents before entering V. P. I. at Blacksburg.

Mrs. C. J. Harker, and family, have moved from here to Lynchburg, we wish them success in their new home.

The use of arsenate of lead on tobacco proved very costly to the Messrs. Brizentine Bros. of Prospect, as in some way two fine mules and a good milk cow died of the poison.

Mr. Talmage Young was held up by a heavy-set negro man who was in hiding in the feed-room of the stock barn at the home of Mr. W. C. Chick. Mr. Young was starting to the house after putting his car away when he was attacked by the would be robber. Mr. Young says he cannot say why he did not shoot the man.

Mr. J. W. Davis who has been on the sick list for several weeks is much improved.

Miss Ruth Swan will leave in a few days for Arvonia where she will be Latin and French teacher in the high school at that place.

FOREST VIEW

The crops are looking fine in this vicinity and the vegetables are plentiful. Everybody seems to be busy—some are getting their tobacco ready to cut and house. Everybody finding something to do, and of course the preserving and house cleaning is going on, and visitors are being entertained.

Miss Mary Marshall is back from S. T. C., Farmville, and will teach our school again at Petty's Fork. Schools beginning earlier this time.

Fall is approaching and soon the good old summer time will be gone and old gray winter with its snows and blasting winds will take its place. But these changes must come.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Woolridge, of Grifton, N. C., spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Woolridge. They in company with A. S. Woolridge, and wife, visited in the home of J. A. Martin while here.

Mrs. L. D Martin and children, Dorothy, Purdum and Iona, of Richmond, spent last week in the home of R. W. Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Laughlin and Mr. Sowell, of Lynchburg were Sunday guests in the home of T. H. Ford recently.

Miss Annie Martin, of Petersburg, Va., is visiting Mrs. Stephen Fore.

We had a little surprise last week when the news reached us that Miss Evie Ford the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ford was married to Mr. Ewers, of Lynchburg, on Aug. 28th. Miss Ford had been in business in Lynchburg for several years, and had gained many friends there, and she has a host of friends in this county who wish them a long happy and prosperous life.

PAMPLIN

Mr. C. R. Price, of Blacksburg, accompanied by his wife, four children and mother, left Saturday morning last for Washington, D. C. They had been spending a week with Mrs. T. L. Griffin who is a sister of Mr. Price.

Mr. Lawrence Ramsey who enlisted in the Regular Army about two months ago was home on a 5 day furlough last week.

"Johnny" Cole, the genial manager of the B. B. C. is wearing a smile about a yard wide these days. On Friday last his wife presented him with an 8 pound daughter. Mother and daughter both are doing fine.

On Labor Day we had quite a number of visitors here, and incidentally, the B. B. C. from Appomattox. Two games were played, one in the morning, which was a very interesting game and resulted in a win for Pamplin by a 5 to 0 score, all 5 runs were scored over the first inning when Marshall pitched a no-hit and no-run game. After that both teams settled down and played a first class brand of ball.

The second game was rather loose and while Pamplin won by a 7 to 6 score, the game was interrupted by a fight at first base.

We do not kuow who was to blame, but is surely not sportsman like to let one's temper get the best of one. Towards the end of the game a batter poled one on a line to the pitcher who failed to get his hand far enough and the ball, glancing off the end of his glove, struck him on the nose; fortunately the nose was not broken. Among those who came down to root for Appomattox was "Uncle Charley" who is employed at the hotel and sure is some "rooter." Visitors from New York made it very interesting for the players by offering a dollar for a base hit, two for a strike-out and five for a homer and both pitchers made a good day's pay. The five dollars for a homer was not collected, as there was not a homer made.

Dr. James H. Franklin, and daughter, Carolyn, are the guests of Miss Kate Franklin this week. Dr. Franklin preached twice at Baptist Church on Sunday to very large congregations at both services. His subject for morning service was "Lord Show us the Father and it suffith us!" and at night he spoke on his recent trip to Norway and Sweeden. These sermons were full of inspiration and power and much enjoyed by large audiences.

Your correspondant had the pleasure of attending the Asso. B. Y. P. U. Convention held at Spring Creek Church on the 5th Sunday. Quite a large crowd was present and an interesting program rendered. The unions were well represented, Dr. E. J. Wright made the address of the evening and was much enjoyed. A nicely prepared dinner was served by the hostess church.

Mrs. Dinkins of Appomattox was guest of her sister Mrs. Dickerson on last week-end.

James Richardson is spending the week at Cullen with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson have as their guests, Miss Mildred Wilson, of Madison and Mrs. Blanch Blake, of Appomattox.

Prof. and Mrs. E. M. Terry returned from the U. of Va. on last Sat. They leave Wednesday for Lacrosse where they will teach this term.

Mrs. Curtis Harvey is at home after spending her vacation with her parents at Phenix.

Miss Rachel Paulett returned home on Tues. after spending a week with her parents.

Mrs. O. E. Peterson entertained at progressive Rook on last Thursday afternoon in compliment to her niece Miss Esther Farquahar, of Northingham, Ohio. A large number was present, and delicious refreshments were served.
